Madison Valley Home Tour a Great Success

Proceeds go to benefit the Madison Valley Medical Center

by Dottie Fossel

The second annual Madison Valley Home Tour sponsored by the Madison Valley Medical Center (MVMC) Auxiliary was a great success. Over 140 men and women enjoyed meeting the owners and touring the six distinctive homes opened for the day. This year, as last, we had mostly people from the Madison Valley, but several came from Bozeman. A large group from West Yellowstone arrived by bus.

The MVMC auxiliary's purpose is to support the Medical Center. This year all proceeds from the home tour and silent auction will go toward the purchase of needed equipment. "We'd like to express our gratitude to all of the homeowners who graciously offered to open their homes for the day," said Auxiliary President, Colleen Hill, "We also want to express our thanks to all of you who attended the tour and purchased silent auction items, we hope to see you again at next year's tour!"

The MVMC auxiliary sponsors the annual home tour and participates with many MVMC activities and fundraisers. They also staff the reception desk 8 to 5p.m., Monday through Friday directing clients to the lab, radiology, hospital, clinic and physical therapy. These smiling volunteers, wearing purple, are the first people you see when you enter the Medical Center.

If you are interested in volunteering with this rewarding community service group, please call the Madison Valley Medical Center at 682-6862 and ask for the reception desk. More information is also available on our website at www.mvmedcenter.org, look for the auxiliary in the welcome section.
